VOLUME 1.

DOTHAN, ALABAMA, FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 27TH, 1898

NUMBER 267

MILITARY DAY BEING CONSIDERED FOR FAIR

A military day, a prize drill and a sham battle is the latest novel performance Major E. B. Winters, Secretary of the Alabama Agricultural Association, is considering for the success of the State Fair this Fall. Colonel R. C. Brecken of Troy, Commander of the 2nd Regiment, Alabama National Guard, has assured Major Winters his hearty co-operation in the project. He has promised all the ammunition necessary for a real live sham battle, something which many Alabamians have never witnessed.

It will be a true military day with all the khaki clad soldiers of the Alabama National Guard competing. Major Winters is considering the preparation of a prize drill for this day, with two premiums of $300 and $100 for the two best drilled companies in the state. Major Winters is of the opinion that such a day with its prize drill and sham battle would be a winning attraction.

But other good things are in store for the patrons of the fair, especially in different lights. This state fair will illuminate Vandiver Park on the opening night of the fair, October 22. Major Winters signed the contract yesterday with the Consolidated Fireworks Company of America, for the furnishing of the two pyrotechnic displays.

The Consolidated Fireworks company furnished the fireworks at last year's fair, and the displays gave entire satisfaction. Several other companies were very anxious to land the contract for this part of the program.

The fireworks program selected by Mr. Winters includes seven regular set pieces, besides fifty-three other different varieties. The seven set pieces will be strictly in red and will characterize Montgomery's scenes of prominent men.

It has been suggested to have the elements of some well known local men shown in fireworks and also the company will send a man down from Cincinnati to erect the set pieces and have charge of the displays.

Although the fireworks displays will be given on only two nights of the fair, yet a large flag, 200 feet long and seventy-five feet wide will be displayed in fire works every evening. The stars and stripes will be shown effect- ually in different lights. This

Horse shows midway and wild display will be followed by a super show, ostrich races and fire lute of thirteen guns. More than works. The most elaborate fire-

$600 will be spent on the fire works display ever seen at any work's program for the two nights

TWO OTHERS BITTEN BY THE MAD DOG

Jesse Daugherty, a boy about 14 years old, was also bitten by Mr. Willis' dog, which has since proved to be mad.

Jesse was bitten one day last week and thought at the time that the dog was mad, but on account of the dog being so small, he decided that the puppy was playfully biting him and did not notice the bite until Mr. Willis discovered that it was really mad. The boy was taken to Montgomery this afternoon for Pasteur treatment.

Another small boy, Henry Pittman, was also bitten by the same dog, on the same day. He was taken to Montgomery Wednesday and is now being treated.

Rabies had not fully developed on the dog and the doctor who examined the head said that it would not be dangerous to wait 90 to 120 days to have the boy treated. But of course no time was lost in getting them under the treatment of the Pasteur Institute.

Mrs. Stella Morris of Elba is in the city, visiting the family of her brother, Mr. Guy Morris.

BIRMINGHAM POLICE VIOLATE INJUNCTION

The arrest in Birmingham of two negro draymen, who were hauling beer through the streets of Birmingham, is likely to result in a clash between the Federal authorities and the police of the city of Birmingham.

The arrest was made if the beer was shipped direct from another state, in defiance of an order from the United States Circuit Court.

Judge W. J. Grubbs will pass upon the issue. Judge Jones is busy in Montgomery, and the case will undoubtedly be brought before Judge Grubb.

The arrest was made under one of the numerous drastic laws passed by the legislature. The law forbids any intoxicating liquor to be hauled or carried through the streets except by the owner. This is one of a number of laws, that good lawyers say are in conflict with the constitution. The constitution holds that no State shall interfere with commerce. The United States Court had held that delivery of an article bought in another State was not complete until it was made at the home of the consignee; that the consignee would have thought to have the article hauled from the depot to the home. A restraining order was issued preserving this right. But the Legislature passed another law, to get around the provision of the United States constitution.

If the sale of beer to the Birmingham man was a bona fide transaction, if it was ordered and shipped from another State, the policeman who made the arrest will have trouble with the Federal authorities. But some of the beer agents have been having beer shipped to them by earload lots and disposing of it at the depot. If a sale was made at the depot, it did not come under the protection of the interstate commerce provision, and the policeman will not be brought to task.

The incident will result in the first test of any of the new laws.

DOOTHAN VARIETY WORKS TO REBUILD.

Mr. W. C. Pileher, who owned the Dothan Variety Works, the plant that was burned last week, says that he expects to rebuild the variety works at once. Work has already begun and when finished, this will be one of the most up-to-date plants of its kind in the south.

Although it was well equipped before it burned, it will be even better this time, having larger machines, and will employ more workmen. He also states that when it is completed, it will be a credit to Dothan and that he expects to have it running in a shorter time than will be expected.

FIRE AT WAREHOUSE.

The fire alarm was turned in at an early hour this morning from the Farmers' Union Warehouse, at the Court House depot. The night watchman for the compress discovered the fire, which was inside the warehouse adjoining the compress. It was the last bale weighed yesterday evening, and one that had just been brought in from the oil mill gin, and it is thought that a spark had fallen on the bale, which was not discovered at the time. Two bales of cotton were burned over on the outside, but no other damage was done to amount to anything, except that K. P. Holland got his hand severely burned inside while rolling the burning bale of cotton out of the warehouse.

DOGS MUST BE MUZZLED

Every dog running loose on the street must be muzzled or shot.

There are three children in Montgomery now for treatment of and dog bites and if you want to keep your dog in Dothan, connect keep him at home in the yard or keep him muzzled.

WHOLESALE GRAFT BEING CARRIED ON

New York, Aug. 26.—Representative William F. Bennett, in a letter to the Secretary of War, made public here today, charges the purchasing department of the Isthmian Canal Commission with gross extravagance and favoritism in connection with the purchase of paint used for the barges, dredges and other vessels engaged on canal work. His letter, he says, is only the opening gun in a campaign which he hopes will result in the establishment of a central purchasing bureau for the government.

"It is reasonable to assume," the letter concludes, "that a purchasing department that has bought nearly fourteen times as much of an article as was necessary and under conditions apparently it could not be used, is engaged in other similar and possibly larger transactions."

In a supplementary statement Mr. Bennett says:

"The contract system in all governmental departments is subject to criticism. There should be a central purchasing bureau for the United States Government and then the possibilities of graft would be reduced to a minimum. I have information of pecuniaries not alone about paint in connection with the purchasing department of the Canal Commission, but about cement and other materials. There is one instance I know of where a contract for cement was closed with a concern whose price was between $600,000 and $800,000 above that of the lowest bidder."

THINKS THE DOG WAS MAD

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilcox, who was bitten by a dog a few days ago was taken to Montgomery today for Pasteur treatment. When the child was bitten Mr. Willis caught the dog and shot it up but it died Wednesday, and he took the head to Montgomery yesterday to have it examined and the physicians pronounced it rabies. So the little fellow is being taken there today for treatment.

The dog showed but little signs of being mad, and the family was in some doubt about it till it died.

Since the war is over in Boston maybe the New Englanders will forget the war of the 60's

The taxpayers of Alabama have their eyes on the checks of the legislature to see if anything creeps in that looks like it's loaded

The question that has been going the rounds of late. What is whiskey? passed Alabama with out any one's trying to answer

Naturally the coming amendment campaign will call for much money being spent. Then think of what the county office expectors have got before them

The specialty man is coming more and more into note. One naturally expects a man who does not pretend to know but one thing to know that thing mighty well

The merchants of this town all have an air of expecting something. They are opening up their new goods and looking longingly at the bales of cotton as they go down the street

The curfew law is on strong now in Washington. They won't even let the little news boys and shoe string vendors be out on the streets at night. That would be a good law in Dothan now if it were enforced

The boy who leaves the ground floor of any business, will take the elevator before it gets too late for his own good and leave the high places as he comes to them. The competitor man of the high place always knows the jobs low or down

Some times a fellow who has been on a drunk a long time, gets up and rejoices so much over the fact that he has sobered up till he gets drunk again. Burning him's rejoicing over the failure to cut up Jefferson county makes us think of that fellow

Adolphus Busch, the brewer is afflicted with several diseases, and is in a bad way. If he would do gently print the Blue Book of the Brewers' Association he would find that beer is a sure cure for most of the ailments that are troubling him—Emporia Gazette

THEY REST THE EYE

The Advertiser objects to the caps and black caps used in editorials by some of the papers. We cannot help wondering if some of our contemporaries believe that their editorials are better or stronger for being printed almost entirely in capital letters or that they will be read more. It is the character of an editorial that counts not the type that is used in printing it."

Let the capital letter show up solid in the editorials, or let them be printed in black face type. When you see an editorial underscored in such a screaming manner, it is an indication that the editor is worked up to a great pitch. It is only necessary, then, to wade down through a few feet of double column screamer, and pick out the black faced type, and the capital letters to read. You need not peruse it all. The display lines will tell the story and when read, the loud talk of the editor has made the subject clear.

This particular style of journalism has its origin in the Hearst brain very likely and it has gradually worked its way into even the more conservative offices. There are only a very small number who don't resort to poster type to record heavy editorial thunder nowadays even some of the mild mannered and soft spoken folks will uncover the 13 cent ticks and pull them out to 26 1/2 inches to properly impress the reader that what is contained therein is of vast importance.

After finishing one of those banners it is good for the mind to turn over and read through a couple of columns of stock reports or a yard or two of material in the tariff question.

THEY WILL COME LATER

The people of Houston county might want good roads because it means a saving of money to them and it means that their land is enhanced in value by reason of the fact that the county has good roads.

The commissioners court passed an order to build a good road through the county north and south and east and west giving the county about sixty to sixty-five miles of good roads and as soon as this road is built the rest of the county will never rest till good roads cover all of it. Then it will be necessary to bond the county and build the roads. When this is done the good roads movement will carry. It never fails to carry when the people have had a sample of good roads.

Of course the building of these roads to start with, will no doubt not go by every man's house. They couldn't and no fair minded man will object to it because he happens to live off the road when it places a road where he can get to it with but little travel. The man off the road will get a road later.

The citizens of this county will never be satisfied till the roads are put in first class shape and first class shape means the building of roads and then maintaining them in the proper condition.

THEY ARE COMING IN

This is the season of the year that makes glad the heart of the Alabama country editor. This is the season when the good farmer who has been reading the paper all the year remembers the editor and comes to his rescue just as soon as the first cotton is picked out and sold. It is a pleasure to have subscribers who know that the editor is entitled to some consideration at least once a year. And when they begin to come in at the early season it is evidence that they appreciate the paper they have been taking. Many of our weekly readers have already dropped in to see us and many more have us in mind and will come in soon.

SETTLED

The Holiness People and not the Holy Rollers have decided after praying over the matter to forgive the boys who cut up so at the services the other night and pray for them that they may be saved. The young lady whom they misrepresent say she would not appear in court to swear for or against them beliefing it is wrong to swear. We want everybody to come to church, who will come for a good purpose, so the matter is settled if they don't do so any more.

J F

WE SHALL SEE

It is hoped that Houston county will dance up with that man who owns Henry County. The report is being circulated that Houston County would run a man for the Senate in the coming election. The report reaches us from a reliable source and it seems that the here tofore plan of rotation is a thing of the past. It seems that Houston is angry over the fact that she is forced to pay half of the indebtedness of Henry as the promise to do when the county of Houston was made. Headland Post.

Who was it that promised to pay off Henry's indebtedness? Who did Houston fail to pay half of the indebtedness of Henry because she promised it?

We would like to know who had the authority to promise to pay off a total thousand dollars for a sum which I never heard of. I heard and then would like to know in this thing.

If there was a surplus of tax $15,000 in Henry County when the taxes were paid, would it not be known at the instant that money had come out of the pockets of the taxpayers of these people who now live and then lived in the territory which is Houston and if this is the fact wasn't that a settlement between county and city in the interior of the state existed in that instant? How far is it from of the surplus or even $1,000 in the people's taxes all the people taxes which makes most of that surplus should have been paid back to the source from whence it came. That was done in rather it was left in the hands of Henry's friends. It was our people's money.

Of course we all know that and while the legislature and the courts have given a just fit and while Houston may ultimately pay the amount still that doesn't make it fair. But it isn't paid yet surely no one would be fit that he chose this legislature which has just adjourned said that Houston ought to pay the amount that this makes it right. This was a one man legislature and that one man might have counted more names on the other side among his friends than he could count in Houston and the man who is not a friend gets his toes mashed in a rough manner sometimes.

As to Houston's claim, a son after next time that is to be settled later. Understand we can do it if the occasion demands it now.

Henry L. Youtsey our old friend of a dozen years ago had about escaped our memory till we saw where his wife was suing him for a divorce. He is doing fine and the only one too fit the killing of Gorham and his name was familiar to the daily paper readers along with Caleb Powers.

How long gentlemen how long has it been since you have been to an old time stump speaking? Almost forgot. Of course we have been out to the court house to listen to an elevated talk from a candidate for governor or for United States Senator but we haven't had a rough and tumble catch as can stump speaking in Houston county since we all had so much fun fighting for the new county. Before that time the notable fights dated back to the days of Populism. But it is to be different. Times are ever changing and now we are to have real political rallies at every cross roads and school house in the county. Of course there will not be much rallying done till the cotton is picked, but there will be some right after this festival.

STRANGE HINDU BELIEFS

The uneducated Hindu (and he is in the great majority) believes that the ghost of a man killed by a tiger rides on the head of the beast that slew him to warn him of danger and to guide him to new victims. It is declared that God provides for the tiger's daily wants to the amount of one rupee a day, that is to say, if the tiger kills a calf worth six rupees he will not be allowed another victim for five days.

Eating the flesh of a tiger is supposed to give one great courage and alertness but the老虎 must first be singed off the beast or his spirit will haunt the man who fed off him and he is likely to be turned into a tiger in the next world.

In a small Indian village in the interior a villager was killed by a tiger. The police investigated the accidental death and rendered this verdict. Pandu died of a tiger eating him there was no other cause of death. Nothing was left of him save his bones and some fingers which probably belonged to either the right or the left hand.

W. M. LOUIS

FREE LOVE, SOCIAL EQUALITY AND SOCIALISM.

The Jeffersonian Weekly.

I have certainly had no intention of hurting anybody's feelings by my discussions of Socialism.

As in the case of Foreign Missions, the purpose has been to furnish information.

Nevertheless, some very salty letters have been written me by correspondents who are dead certain of two things:

(1) That they know all about Socialism;

(2) That I don't understand it at all.

The editorial in which I stated that Socialism led, logically and unavoidably, to Free Love and Social Equality, has aroused especial indignation.

Some of the brethren, who write to me about said editorial claim me as a deliberate liar, some as a dead liar, and others as a Senatorial stand-pat-tariff liar.

Well, I've heard it thunder before. A man who has waded through a twenty-year fight with the Bourbons of the South, is not to be flustered and buried by Socialistic atheism.

The truth is, I have the kindest feelings for the rank-and-file Socialist. He wants to elevate the masses,—and isn't that what Populism and Jeffersonian democracy proposes to do? Assuredly. Then why should we be pulling each other's hair, dividing the reformers and insuring victory for the reactionaries? It is a pity that we should.

But while feeling a sympathy for the rank-and-file Socialist, I censure the editor or political leader who deceives his following. When Mr. Debs or Mr. Warren resents the assertion that the Socialist creed is in deadly hostility to the present marriage system, they do wrong, for they know that the assertion is true. When they dupe the farmers of Texas, Oklahoma, and Florida into the belief that Socialism does not mean the entire abolition of private property, they wilfully and deliberately perpetrate a fraud upon these men.

And when they denounce the statement that social equality with negroes and everybody else inevitably results from their creed, they do a thing which they would not dare to do at a Socialist meeting in Chicago, in New York, in Berlin or in Paris.

Why should Southern and Western farmers and laborers think that I would tell lies on Socialism? What motive could actuate me to do such a thing?

The aim of my whole public career has been to improve the condition of the common people. My political life has been one long fight for the under dog.

That spirit is to be found in my every speech, every book, my editorials and my votes. It was I who made the Congressional fight on the Pinkerton Deputy strike-breakers—batting it resolutely for the labouring man in Washington as Debs did in Chicago.

But while agreeing with Mr. Debs about the governmental abuses which now afflict our people, his remedies shock my common sense and ideas of morality.

I cannot see any justice in the doctrine which teaches that every child born into the world is equal her to the vast improvements, which have been made by the industrious, the talented, the high minded men of the world.

I reject with horror the proposition that our marriage system and our home life shall be dissolved by the social revolution which removes from the head of the family his duties and responsibilities, and which makes the family itself the temporary tenant of a house that can never become a home.

And I reject with instinctive loathing, utterable disgust, the suggestion that the human race shall lose all that it has gained by self-restraint—by the curbing of sexual indulgence,—and shall lapse into the system of savage free-mating, unbridled promiscuity,—a debasing condition of things in which the child would have nobody for its mother and everybody for its father.

If it alienates my best friends, I must expose and attack Socialism. It is a duty. When I see honest Southern men going blindly into this European mess, I must speak out.

In the October number of the Jeffersonian Magazine, will commence series of articles on Socialism, in which I will prove everything that has been said against it in previous editorials.

Just as I made out the case against the Foreign Missions methods of today by using their own books, so the evidence against Socialism will be taken from Socialist books.
